Plot:

Gather around the campfire for the action-packed story of the poison lake.

Our story begins on the beach where the forest meets the lake, Spider the Imp and Sponge the Kelpie are splashing in the water. They become fast friends. But quickly things begin to turn. All the imps and all the kelpies who live by the lake start to get sick. There is something wrong with the water.

Spider and Sponge need to find a way to fix the poisoned water. They leave home on a tough journey. They sail across the lake to Desert Forest and sing a sea traveling song. It turns out that another Imp snuck onto their ship and wants to help. Once they arrive on the other shore, they find a locked box with a magic map inside. They have to climb to the top of the tallest tree to find the key. At the top of the tree they meet a Purple Bird. He will give them the key but first they have to listen to his jokes.

At the climax of our story, Spider, Shrimp and Imp take the key and can finally open the box. But they discover that the map is evil! It doesn't have the answers they are looking for. They are so sad.

At the end, they decide they have to keep going to save the sick Imps and Kelpies and find a solution for the poisoned water. They realize they have to split up so they can search for answers in different places. Spider and Shrimp never see each other again.
