by a rule-abiding mermaid. Knowing they don't have much time before they are found out and ridiculed, the Centaur convinces her to run away and hide in his homeland of the Ogre's swamp.

Once at the swamp, the Centaur's family finds out the truth about their relationship, and they do not react well. We will show the Angry Heard in a Movement/Music Piece.

Fearing they will be torn apart, the Centaur takes the fairy to the home of his friends Sam the Alligator and Eel. These magical creatures reveal there is a solution to their problem, and it lies back at the Halloween festival from whence they came - but in order for it to work, they need to find someone with dark magic powers. Surprise! The fairy secretly knows dark magic. She has been concealing it from the Centaur until this point, out of fear that he will no longer love her. He reassures her that he loves her no matter what. Sam and Eel teach the Fairy the magical incantation - a sign language spell.

At the climax of our story, Centaur and Fairy race back to the festival, which is ending in only one day. The end-of-festival party is huge! So many people to hide from, and so little time to find the funnel cake maker! Finally, they find who they are looking for and the fairy uses her magic to complete the spell on the funnel cakes. They eat their funnel cakes, and the Centaur's wish to be turned into a Fairy is granted.

At the end, seeing her love having changed form, the Fairy's heart makes a different choice. She uses her wish to turn the Centaur back to his original self; the creature she fell in love with. They decide to leave their homelands and travel the world together, sharing their love with everyone they meet in an epic Love Song devised by our actors.
