Our story begins with a friendly and courageous Sprite sneaking into a dark, leaky Cave in search of maraschino cherries, an important ingredient in a Shirley Temple, her favorite drink. She encounters a giant Wendigo and is terrified! And she should be...

	Wendigos like to eat humans and Sprites are just tiny humans with wings. This Wendigo stopped eating humans after entering a talent show and winning a lifetime supply of pizza. But, being a Wendigo, his lifetime supply has already run out! The Wendigo must find something satisfying to eat soon. Otherwise, he will start eating people again. The Wendigo threatens to eat the Sprite as a snack. The Sprite convinces the Wendigo that with her knowledge of the Windy Raft River, they can find the ingredients he needs for more pizza. The Wendigo reluctantly agrees to give her the cherries if she can help him. But she better do it soon, because he is hungry. The unlikely duo climbs onto a raft and brave the rapids on the River, and they tackle many challenges including a swarm of giant bees! At the climax, the starving Wendigo eats a huge handful of poison mushrooms along the River. He feels like he might explode! Luckily the Sprite knows a reversing potion and is able to save the Wendigo's life. At the end, the Wendigo stands up straight and can see a Pizza Hut in the distance. The Wendigo can get all the pizza he wants, and grants the Sprite access to all the maraschino cherries stored in the cave. The new friends share a pizza and make a toast with Shirley Temples.
